Future Developments is a collection of ~~13~~ 14 15 artists (maybe more, you just never know) whose work will be employed to create an ad hoc sequence of distinct but relatively related exhibitions to build the whole of the exhibition. This ever-changing show, with a new iteration every two weeks or so (depending on how I feel), will include several artists previously exhibited at the gallery; a former undergraduate classmate of yours truly; someone with whom I share a birthday; a past exhibitor at Art of This; and two artists I have yet to meet in person. To keep you on your toes, as they say, there may even be some surprises, cameos, guest appearances, that sort of thing. And every Saturday at 4, please join us for Happy Hour on the Patio.

The third iteration of Future Developments is complete chaos. Artwork is everywhere. My apologies for the gallery map - it is a complete disaster. Nevertheless, we must forge ahead. New additions to the exhibition include blanket paintings and a sculpture full of copper sulfate solution by Mpls stalwart Joe Smith; four gnarly gems by Brooklyn's Bianca Beck; and a painting by Kristen Van Deventer I have been hiding for nearly three years. Upcoming iterations and events will be posted on the website and via email and social media.

Next event – Sunday, June 26, 3-6pm
